

Advanced Police Leadership Certificate

Modern Policing's Leading Edge

Introduction

John C. Maxwell once said, "A leader is someone who knows the way, goes the way, and shows the way."

It is often known that the most effective leaders possess self-awareness and the ability to use this inner power to influence others' actions in order to enhance both individual and organizational success. This Course N Carry Advanced Certificate in Police Leadership training program acknowledges that standard commercial jobs may not always need the particular attitude and skill set needed for leadership in policing. As a result, this training program has been designed to provide you the strong knowledge, critical abilities, and useful tools you need to create your own leadership style and assist law enforcement in reaching its goals for excellence in the twenty-first century.

Objectives

- Recognize police leadership and the environment in which it functions.
- Examine your chosen leadership approach to increase efficacy.
- Recognize and develop your natural leadership abilities.
- Recognize the importance of emotional intelligence in leadership
- Increase your own authority, clout, and effect
- Learn the vital interpersonal skills required to guide others.

Training Methodology

Core topics are introduced through lectures led by experts in law enforcement, leadership, and ethics. Seminars encourage active discussions and Q&A sessions, allowing participants to clarify concepts and delve deeper into specific areas. Provides a solid theoretical foundation and fosters knowledge sharing among participants, promoting an exchange of diverse perspectives and experiences.

Organizational impacts

Strengthens the leadership pipeline, ensuring capable leaders are ready to manage and guide teams effectively, which promotes stability and reliability across operations. Streamlined operations reduce unnecessary costs, improve workflow, and enable more efficient handling of incidents, ultimately improving organizational performance.

Personal Impact

Participants develop core leadership competencies, such as strategic thinking, team management, and effective communication, which are essential for advancing in law enforcement. Enables individuals to lead with confidence, manage diverse teams effectively, and take on more significant responsibilities within the organization.

Who should attend?

This Course N Carry Advanced Certificate in Police Leadership training program is appropriate for a variety of police professions, but it will be especially helpful to anybody looking to strengthen their leadership abilities and increase their influence and efficacy. The course covers the following topics:

- Supervisors
- Senior Management
- Middle Managers
- Individuals classified as High Potential or Talent
- Leaders in specialized roles

Course Outline

Day 1

- How can you deepen your reflection-based self-development journey to enhance your comprehension of leadership?
- Your "inner" leader may be a powerful source of development.
- The 21st-Century Context of Police Leadership
- Innovative strategies for influencing others and creating a strong, captivating personal presence
- The ability to guide through changes in oneself and in an organisation
- How to Become a Leader Mastery of Emotions
- Encouraging Others to Reach Successful Outcomes
- Developing Staff and Stakeholder Engagement in Change to Foster Commitment
- Making decisions and resolving issues in incident management
- Operational Policing: Crisis Management Leadership